1. SUMMARY OF THE CONSERVATION RESTRICTION/

Purpose

- Property remains in its natural, scenic and open space condition.
- Provides drinking water supply protection. Is on Fish Brook, a tributary of the Ipswich River, a water supply to Essex County, Massachusetts
- Maintains historic landscape and/or may allow agricultural use.
- Protect and promote wildlife habitat.

Reserved Rights

Residential Uses: None

Forestry, Agricultural and Recreational Uses: Passive recreation; accepted forestry practices to maintain the woodland in a healthy state; to remove invasive species, maintaining the view easement of the historic hayfield among comparable neighboring landscapes

Landscape Management: See above - the field is to remain either as a hayfield to be actively mowed, or in agricultural condition suitable to an open, agricultural landscape. The field may not be enlarged.
